Learning outcomes

Main learning outcome

Describes the business consequences of changes to facility products/services and the facility service process, and draws up a facility policy plan on this basis, including the necessary financial statements.

The student:

- draws up a cost-benefit analysis for a facility management issue, assesses its feasibility and uses it to formulate a recommendation
- makes a well-informed judgement about proposed investments on the basis of an investment selection method with time preference, uses this judgement to formulate a recommendation, draws up an investment budget and explains the consequences for the cash budget
- draws up an operating account for facility products/services and facility departments, among other things using ratios
