Learning outcomes

Analysis level 2: working under supervision the student can analyse socio legal issues within a well defined and complex context, taking account of environmental factors and drawing on multiple legal and non legal sources. They can also contextualise this information in a social, cultural and personal framework and identify the various influenceable factors.

Consultancy level 2: Having clarified a complex but well defined socio legal issue, the student informs the client (individual or organisation) about potential solutions while taking account of the clients specific context and explaining the various possible options either verbally or in writing.
