Content

This module from the Theory & Professional Development stream will centre on the student's ability to position him or herself in the professional field by applying the acquired theoretical knowledge and experience in concrete/professional practice. In doing so, students will make use of the series of articles they have written in semesters 3, 4, 5 and 6. Orientation to the professional field will play an important role as well: this includes practical (via a work placement, live AMP assignment, autonomous assignment), educational (international experience, minor) and research (Knowledge Centre, Living Labs) aspects.
