Content

In the first semester you designed innovation for an issue/case together with your project group. You have also validated a prototype and innovation plan.

During this module (second semester) you will explore how an innovation can be implemented in an organization. Theories/literature about change management and influencing behavior are central during the lessons. You will also learn skills about applying different conversation techniques to change behavior. You will organize an ethical dialogue at the organization with professionals involved in the issue/case. Finally, you will explore/evaluate together with stakeholders/users how the innovation can be used in the organization and what the impact is for practice.
