Minor International Finance & Accounting

Profile of the programme

This student has completed the Minor International Finance and Accounting.

The Minor International Finance and Accounting prepares students for a variety of financial positions at management level in international companies and governmental bodies, EU, and international organisations such as the World Bank. The most common position is that of controller, the information provider of key financial information who assists management in its operational and strategic decision making process. The controller covers the entire short term and long term planning and control cycle from operational management via cash management up to investment selection.
