Inhoud

This project is a collaboration between the Prince Claus Conservatoire and Minerva Arts Academy. It offers students from both academies the opportunity to meet and create art together. Inspired by work of artists who exhibit their work at the Groninger Museum participating students will make contemporary cross arts works. Teachers from both the conservatoire and arts academy will be involved in coaching the process. The emphasis of the creative process will lay on exploring the different perspectives and artistic languages of the participating students. Outcomes of the collaboration will be presented at the end of the project.
